FEATURE: FIVE MOVIES/SHOWS TO BINGE WATCH TO ESCAPE THE POST-HOLIDAY BLUES

JANUARY 28, 2021 | YAROSLAV MYTSAK | 35 COMMENTS

1. Home Alone (1990)

traps, Kevin acts quickly to stop the burglars and bring them to justice.

This is an all-time holiday classic for you to watch with your family after being trapped indoors by heavy January snow and sipping on some hot chocolate or sitting by the fire. I can also guarantee that if you do the face and hands on your face like what Kevin is doing on the cover, anyone can tell that its Home Alone.

Rotten Tomato's gave this film a 65%. Although this is not a very high score, many people would agree that this iconic Christmas movie deserves better.

2.) The Mandalorian

Set five years after the events of the Jedi Return(1983) and the fall of the Empire, in the outer reaches of the galaxy, The Mandalorian follows a lone bounty hunter who is hired to retrieve Grogu's child. He eventually decides to go on the run to protect the child, widely recognized as the adored Baby Yoda.

While it may not be a classic or holiday-related, this is a must watch. Even if you are not a Star Wars fan, this may lead you to consider being one. One of the best characters in The Mandalorian is Baby Yoda. He is the cutest and most irresistible baby in the far, far away galaxy. With the hype of season two release, the introduction along new characters and loads conspiracies, this show is bound to grab your attention.

Rotten Tomato's: 93%

3.) Nailed It

The series is a reality television style bake-off competition where three amateur bakers compete to replicate complicated cakes and confectionery to win a $10,000 cash prize and a "nailed it" trophy.

This show is extremely entertaining to watch, and, with four seasons, it is binge-worthy. If you are not good at cooking or baking, do not worry, because after watching this show you will feel much better about yourself. The show is filled with tons of crazy, wacky and gravity-defying cake reactions that often are left upside-down on the floor before each round has ended. If anything, this show proves that not everyone can cook like Gordon Ramsey or bake like Duff Goldman.

Rotten Tomato's: 98%.

4.) Stranger Things

After the mysterious and sudden vanishing of a young boy, the people of a small town begin to uncover the secrets of a government lab, portals to another world, and sinister monsters. Trying to help find him, the boy's friends discover a strange little girl, who is on the run from "bad men."

This show takes place in the 80's in Hawkins, Indiana, and takes sci-fi to a whole new level through alternate dimensions, portals, and characters with powers such as illusion and telepathy. It is official that a fourth season will arrive and one of things that most people love about the show are the characters that show so much emotion and the watch time, meaning that episodes range from 30 min to 50 min and the reason why is because it gets extremely tedious when an episode is 22 min and it ends at not even the best part. Each episode contains an impressive amount of detail and ends with a cliff hanger that will leave you craving the next episode.

Rotten Tomato's: 83%

5.) Cobra Kai

Cobra Kai is set 34 years after the original Karate Kid film, re-examining the narrative from Johnny Lawrence's point of view. It follows his decision to reopen the Cobra Kai karate dojo that leads to the rekindling of his old rivalry with Daniel LaRusso.

If you loved the Karate film or series, then you'll love Cobra Kai because it presents the antagonist point of view, he saves a kid from a bunch of bullies, teaches karate to kids who don't know how to fight, and rivals with LaRusso.

Rotten Tomatoes: 94%.

Honorable Mention: Go! Vive a Tu Manera

Mí6ksea, a talented and fearless girl who lives with her adoptive godmother, receives a dance scholarship to the prestigious Saint Mary's Academy, a school that is known for its performing arts department and elite students. Mia looks to adapt to her new school, but finds herself clashing with the owner's daughter, the most popular and "talented" girl at the academy. With the help of her two new best friends, Mia is determined to take Saint Mary's by storm, even capturing the attention of the school's star basketball player: her rival's brother!

This show is an amazing way to practice your Spanish and has some interesting drama. For some students in the St. Paul's Upper School, you'll have some homework or assignments on this and it's better to get a head start on it. But in general, this is a wonderful show for anyone to watch or to improve your Spanish!

I was wondering if you ever considered changing the layout of your site? Its very well written; I love what youve got to say. But maybe you could a little more in the way of content so people could connect with it better. Youve got an awful lot of text for only having 1 or two images. Maybe you could space it out better?
